You are Wrong!

By Doug Norman

We've bought this a couple times, but are a bit disappointed this year. There have been at least half a dozen pages where the answers are actually wrong. By that I don't mean that I just disagreed with their answer, but rather that they had the completely wrong answer. For example one of the "burnt matches" answers wasn't even the same picture as the actual puzzle. It is obvious nobody proofread an actual printed deck.

It needs work

By Daniel B.

I like the idea of this calendar a lot, but the editors did a poor job making sure the puzzles are solvable. On many occasions I have struggled with a puzzle only to flip to the solution and see that it is to an entirely different puzzle, or there is a typo on the puzzle that was corrected for the solution. This just makes the calendar frustrating to use and always has me second guessing whether the puzzles is being extra tricky, or it is just wrong. They also use the term "common words" or everyday words for words no one uses regularly.

Brain awakener

By 123 degrees west

We buy one every year to help us wake up in the morning. It works. Most puzzles can be worked out, and only a few are too obscure, or require specialized knowledge. Great "brain-awakener".
